While the sermon dealt very with the issue of the day yet it was non-partisan and all the best of his account. FALSEHOOD FLOORED

Other Railroad Leaders Denounce a Forgery

Decatur, Ill., Oct. 27.—The railroad men of this city and other railroad leaders have denounced a forgery which appeared in the St. Louis papers. The forgery was a letter from the St. Louis Railroad Men's Sound Money Club, dated Oct. 27, 1896, in which it was stated that the railroad men of this city and other railroad leaders had agreed to support Bryan for President.

RAILROAD MEN INDIGNANT.

Hanging Resolutions in Reply to Popocrat Falsehood.

Decatur, Mo., Oct. 27.—At a meeting last night of the Decatur Railroad Men's Sound Money Club the articles published in the St. Louis and Decatur papers to the effect that railroad men at this point were being shipped like cattle to swell Republican meetings were strongly denounced and the following resolutions unanimously adopted:

Resolved, That the Railroad Men's Sound Money Club of Decatur declares that each and every article is absolutely false and without foundation, and that they were published with a full knowledge of their falsity; and be it further

Resolved, That the members of the Railroad Men's Sound Money Club protest with indignation against the imputations that they are without pride, without manhood, without a will of their own, and without American independence; and be it further

Resolved, That we condemn the said papers for the assault they have made upon our manhood without any provocation whatever and declare that the articles were written with a premeditated intention to deceive and excite the passions and resentment of people that are not in a position to find out the truth.

THE ROUND-UP.

Everything Tumbling to Sound Money, Honesty, Patriotism and McKinley.

Kansas, Nebraska, Minnesota, the Two Dakotas, Michigan and Iowa are All Certain for Sound Money Nov. 3.

Chicago, Ill., Oct. 27.—There can be no possible doubt that Kansas, Nebraska, and the Dakotas will choose McKinley electors from today. Hon. E. Rosewater, proprietor of the Omaha Bee, has just returned from a speaking tour of Kansas and writes that Kansas is absolutely certain for McKinley, and that he finds no reason to change his estimate that McKinley and Hobart will carry Nebraska by at least five thousand although the Republican State Central committee claims Nebraska by eighteen thousand.

Indiana, Ind., Oct. 27.—The deal with the Populists is said to have shaken the faith of W. E. English also. Mr. English is one of the numerous Democratic leaders who was for sound money at the start, but gave in after the convention at Chicago, to which he was a delegate. He has been in New York all through the campaign, and last week Chairman Martin wired him to know when he would be home and ready to take off his coat for Bryan. English sent the following reply:

"New York, October 24, 1896.—Hon. Parks M. Martin, Chairman Democratic State Central committee, Indianapolis, Ind.: Your telegram received. Did not answer previous letter as I expected an earlier return to Indianapolis. Will return latter part of the coming week, when I will see you in person. However, I do not wish to be understood as in any way approving the recent action of the committee in placing five Populists on the Democratic electoral ticket, as I regard it as an irregular and unauthorized proceeding and a cowardly and distasteful abandonment of Democracy. (Signed) "William E. English."

NOT COERCION.

Manager Van Cleave of St. Louis Talks to His Men About Voting.

St. Louis, Mo., Oct. 27.—James W. Van Cleave, manager of Buck's Stove and Range company, addressed the employees of that concern on the money question at 6 o'clock yesterday evening. The men, about 400 in number, assembled on the north side of the office building, and Mr. Van Cleave spoke from the platform in front of the office. The men gave careful attention, and when they dispersed they were enthusiastic for both McKinley and Van Cleave.

The manager began by telling the men that what he should have to say would be wholly in the way of an argument, and not of dictation or command. "You are at a perfect liberty to vote as you please," said he, "and I shall only tell you what I think is for your best interest and mine—for mine, because I am fully convinced that if the free silver horror prevails these works will be compelled to shut down before the snow flies, and for your interest, because in such case you will all, Democrats and Republicans alike, be out of employment, and the business of the corporation of whose works I am the manager will be paralyzed, and it will be powerless to help you."

Mr. Van Cleave then went into a very plain and practical explanation of the reasons which prompted his belief. His talk was in the language of the working man and easily understood by every one present. The men listened carefully and applauded heartily. The manager talked to them as one of them, not as their master, and they appreciated the attitude which he had assumed toward them. When he had closed they cheered loudly and when he asked them if they had any questions one man called out: "Won't you invite the boys out to the Democratic parade?"

Mr. Van Cleave replied: "I don't know that they were going to have one, but if they do, we will do the best we know how."

This question was provoked by Mr. Van Cleave inviting the men to march with him in the sound money parade Saturday and asking how many were willing to go into the line. It seemed that every man in the crowd held up his hand, but when he asked how many objected to marching for sound money only one man held up his hand.

SCHURZ SCORNS HIM.

Takes Exceptions to the Claim That Bryan Ranks With Lincoln.

LINCOLN WAS HONEST AND A PATRIOT

Was Opposed to Robbery by Law—Bryan a Wilfully Misquoting the Great President and Was Not an Incendiary.

An effort has been made by the Populists to put Bryan on a level with Lincoln in the minds of the unthinking and unlearned. Like every other man who was in sympathy with Lincoln when many of those who are now advising Bryan as a second Lincoln were opposing him and calling him a usurper, Carl Schurz objects to such comparison and in his speech in Peoria last Saturday made the following reference to it:

"This is the State of Abraham Lincoln. His name is its greatest glory in the past. His grave is in its soil, being the monument that is most patriotic, wisest and noblest in American manhood. I know him well. I loved him, and was his faithful adherent, and it is the pride of my life to have possessed his personal friendship. Let me tell you that it makes my blood boil to witness the scandalous game the populists and the leaders of class hatred in this campaign play with his name in claiming him as their spiritual ally. I will give you an example. They are circulating among the people a spurious quotation purporting to be from some speech or message of Abraham Lincoln. It is this:

"As a result of the war, corporations have been authorized and corruption in high places will follow and the money power of the country will endeavor to prolong its run by working upon the prejudice of the people until all wealth is aggregated in a few hands and the republic is destroyed. I feel at this moment more anxiety for the safety of my country than ever before, even in the midst of war. God grant that my suspicions may prove groundless."

Nails a Nail About Lincoln.

I have the authority of his two private secretaries, Hay and Nicolay, who were almost constantly in the presence of Abraham Lincoln during his presidency until the day of his death, and who have scanned every word he wrote during that period and every report made of his utterances, for saying that this quotation is false; that Mr. Lincoln never said or wrote anything in the least resembling it.

man, and make business a reckless gamble, giving the pitiless bloodsucker the best chance. Abraham Lincoln join in an effort to array the west and south against the east and north and inflict bitterness in the heart of one class of society against another? Abraham Lincoln seek to supplant the impulses of generous pleasure at the success of others and of cheerful emulation among men by envy and hatred of everybody who has risen in the world? Abraham Lincoln ally himself to this crime of deception, greed, and tamely against prosperity, good morals, and social concord? Abraham Lincoln favor a policy sure to bring about fraudulent national bankruptcy and lasting disrepute to the national character? Contrast of Antipodes.

Abraham Lincoln and Bryan? Abraham Lincoln and Alford? To associate these names together as allies in a common cause—aye, to pronounce them together in the same breath—is not only a fraud—it is a sacrilege.

As an old friend of Abraham Lincoln, who met at first, receiving his teachings of justice, freedom, and humanity, and who was with him many a day in his struggles for the rights of man, for national government, and for the brotherhood of all the American people, I solemnly protest against this outrage. I call upon the people of Illinois to resent and repel it. They are the custodians of Abraham Lincoln's grave. Let them prove themselves to be worthy custodians of his historic character and fame by burying the populists and leaders of class hatred, who dare to claim him as their own, under a crushing vote of condemnation.

W. R. C. MEETING.

Mrs. M. J. Baxter, of Springfield, Tells the Members of a Solenne to Build a Cottage at Quincy.

Mrs. M. J. Baxter, president of the Stevenson corps, No. 17, W. R. C., of Springfield, arrived in the city this morning and will be the guest today and tomorrow of Mrs. Kille R. Kennedy at No. 885 West Landmark avenue. Mrs. Baxter is here in the interest of a cottage which is to be built at the soldiers' and sailors' home at Quincy, Ill., and this afternoon she made an address before the members of the local W. R. C., explaining the matter to them. It is probable that the corps will contribute something toward the cottage.

In laying the matter before the corps Mrs. Baxter said that the inmates of the soldiers' and sailors' home at Quincy at the death of one of the former inmates, Mrs. Lippincott, requested that a cottage of public comfort be erected to the memory of the much beloved matron. Mrs. Lippincott lost her life while caring for the inmates during a time of epidemic in the home. In gratitude of the care shown them the inmates of the home have given $1800 toward starting the fund on the condition that the W. R. C. of the state would supply the balance. The cottage is to be for the use of relatives of the inmates when they wish to visit the home.

Mrs. Baxter, who is now in the city, and Mrs. Laura Evans, of Taylorville, have been appointed to canvass this district. This evening Mrs. Baxter will speak before the members of the G. A. R.

AT CANTON.

Numbers Delegations Call on McKinley Including Labor and Sound Money Delegates

Canton, Oct. 27.—The first delegation to call on Mr. McKinley was fifty-two delegates from the State of Ohio. They were led by Mr. J. M. Ferry, Ohio. They called on Mr. McKinley at the hotel at Canton, Ohio, and were met by Mr. McKinley and his family. They were then taken to the hotel at Canton, Ohio, and were met by Mr. McKinley and his family.

TOM WATSON AGAIN.

Makes Speech in Which He Scores the Populist Leaders and Sewall.

Thomas, Mo., Oct. 27.—Tom Watson spoke at the dinner to three thousand people. He declared he would be in the line until the last vote is counted. He said the withdrawal of the Populists from the Georgia did not indicate a withdrawal from the present campaign. He said the present campaign was a battle between the Populist party and the Republican party. He said the Populist party was a party of the future, and the Republican party was a party of the past.

Chicago, Ill., Oct. 27.—Only one instance of political reform has been absolutely proven, and that is the dismissal of C. F. Withers as editor of the Pueblo, Colorado, for carrying a McKinley banner in the St. Louis McKinley parade. His admission to this effect, together with a copy of the letter of dismissal received by him, reached the Republican National committee headquarters today and shows that the reform is altogether upon the side of the free silver advocates.

Two More Prominent Men Bolt.

Indiana, Ind., Oct. 27.—Two more sound money Democrats of some prominence came out in letters breaking away from Bryan and the Chicago platform. One of them, Judge Charles G. Oset, of Greenfield, writes a letter of some length to Sterling R. Holt, in which he gives reasons why he places country above party and hopes for the defeat of Bryan. William Langstaff is an ex-member of the Legislature and has long been active in the Democratic affairs of Marion county.

Today he issued an address to his friends, declaring that he endeavored to remain with the organization until it was practically swallowed up by the Populists, but he can no longer act with them.

Chicago, Ill., Oct. 27.—The annual grand convocation of the Illinois Commandery, Knights Templars, opened here today. The session was devoted to the work of organizing and appointing committees.

Chicago, Ill., Oct. 27.—Lawyer Charles F. Musy has sworn out a warrant for the arrest of Alice Platt, Musy's former servant, charging her with the murder of his wife's mother, Mrs. Torgensen, and his two children, aged ten and four years, by poison.

March for Sound Money.

New York, Oct. 27.—An army with banners will march in parade on Saturday next through the central thoroughfares of this city to demonstrate the sentiment in favor of the defeat of the free silver heresy which exists in this city. It will take ten hours of marching in solid phalanx, sixteen abreast, for this great army to pass the reviewing stand in Madison Square.

General Horace Porter, once chief of staff of Grant's army, will have the immediate command as general marshal. Thus far the organizations which have reported for assignment in the parade number thirty-seven, with a total roster of 117,160 men. In order to properly arrange for the handling of this vast aggregation of practically undisciplined men weeks of labor have been devoted. By common consent a general holiday has been declared and business will practically be suspended during hours of the parade.

General Porter said today that the parade would be larger by many thousands than any ever held, and that more men would be in line than were contained in Sherman's army and the army of the Potomac when the troops marched through Washington on the return from the war. The Wholesale Dry Goods association, which turns out 20,000 men, will be given the honor of heading the parade.

Garret A. Hobart will act as chief reviewing officer.

Headline Will Case.

Bloomington, Ill., Oct. 27.—A celebratory will case was decided in the McLean Circuit court yesterday. The will of the late David H. Hinkle, a wealthy land owner of this county, as originally made, bequeathed to Delilah Smith the Kerr Hotel at Lexington and forty acres of land. To the will a codicil was found to be attached devising to Delilah Smith, all of Hinkle's property, valued at $80,000 and cutting off Hinkle's children and grandchildren without a cent. These contested the will, claiming that undue influence had been used with Hinkle; that he was mentally unbalanced when he made the will, and that Delilah Smith, with whom he lived thirty years, was not his wife. Delilah Smith brought forward evidence to show that she was Hinkle's common-law wife. The jury decided the case against the woman and in favor of the contestants. The case was appealed.

Big Parade is Promised—Everybody to March—Carry a Flag or Torch.

The outlook is bright for a big crowd of visitors in the city Saturday night, when there will be witnessed the closing Republican demonstration of the campaign. Saturday will be flag day throughout the country and at night patriotic enthusiasm will be at a high pitch.

Thousands of sound money railway men from Springfield, Peoria, Danville, Effingham, Forrest, Litchfield and other points will be in line, and all of the Decatur clubs with those from county towns and from other counties will be in the marching column. The railroads will give excursion rates.

The speakers will be Hon. Edward Foss and Hon. G. W. Kretzinger, both officials of leading railways of the country and both effective orators who will address the railway men. Hon. G. E. Foss, of Chicago, and Mrs. Fannie B. Worthington, of Evanston, will also address the crowds. The speaking will be at the tabernacle and possibly in Central park.

Every Republican is expected to decorate for Saturday by hanging out the American flag and bunting with yellow ribbon trimmings and then get in line for the parade.

Many companies of horsemen with floats will come in from the country towns.

Charged With Murder.

Kansas City, Mo., Oct. 27.—Lawyer Charles F. Musy has sworn out a warrant for the arrest of Alice Platt, Musy's former servant, charging her with the murder of his wife's mother, Mrs. Torgensen, and his two children, aged ten and four years, by poison.

Gen Grant for Sound Money.

Two silverites are quoting Jesse Grant, son of Gen. Grant as saying that his father, if alive, in his opinion would favor the free coinage of silver at 16 to 1. Gen. Grant was never a repudiationist. He was a patriot and if alive would denounce the humbug of attempting to circulate a 50 cent dollar and a 100 cent dollar side by side as he denounced the greenback repudiation of his day. Here are some extracts from the state papers of Gen. Grant which show how villainous are the attempts of the free silverites to show that he ever favored bad money.

I earnestly recommend such legislation as will insure a gradual return to specie payments and put in immediate stop to fluctuation in the value of currency. * * * To secure the latter I see but one way and that is to authorize the treasury to redeem its paper at a fixed price when presented and to withhold from circulation all paper so redeemed until sold again for gold. The vast resources of the nation, both developed and undeveloped ought to make our credit the best on earth. —President Grant's First Annual Message, Dec. 6th, 1869.

The approach to the specie basis is very gratifying but the fact cannot be denied that the instability of the value of our currency is prejudicial to our prosperity and tends to keep up prices to the detriment of trade. The evils of a depreciated and fluctuating currency are so great that now, when the premium on gold has fallen so much it would seem that the time has arrived when Congress should look to a policy which would place our currency on a par with gold. —From President Grant's Second Annual Message, Dec. 6th, 1870.

Continued fluctuations in the value of gold as compared with the national currency has a most damaging effect upon the increased development of the country in keeping up the prices of all articles necessary to every day life. It fosters a spirit of gambling prejudicial alike to national morals and national finance. If the question can be met so as to give a fixed value to our currency that value constantly and uniformly approaching par with specie, a very valuable object would be gained. —From President Grant's Third Annual Message, Dec. 3rd, 1871.

The exact medium is specie, the recognized medium of exchange the world over. If of value, we shall have a currency of the exact degree of elasticity. If there be too much of it for the legitimate purposes of trade and commerce, it will flow out of the country. If too little the reverse will result. To withhold what we have and to appreciate our currency to that standard is the problem deserving the most serious consideration of Congress. —From President Grant's Fifth Annual Message, Dec. 1st, 1873.

I firmly believe that there can be no prosperity and permanent revival of business and industries until a policy is adopted with legislation to carry it out looking to a return to a specie basis. It is easy to conceive that the debtor and the speculative classes may think it of value to them to make so called money abundant until they can throw a portion of their burdens upon others. But even these I believe would be disappointed in the result if a course should be pursued which will keep in doubt the value of the legal tender medium of exchange. * * *

It seems to me that nothing is clearer than that the greater part of the burden of existing prostration, for the want of a sound financial system falls upon the workmen who must, after all, produce the wealth and the salaried man who superintends and conducts business. The burden falls upon them in two ways, by the deprivation of employment and by the decreased purchasing power of their salaries. —From President Grant's Sixth Annual Message, Dec. 7, 1874.

Nothing seems to me more certain than that a full, healthy and permanent reaction cannot take place in favor of the industries and the financial welfare of the country until we return to the measure of values recognized throughout the civilized world. * * * The yield of precious metals would flow out for the purpose of foreign production and leave the United States "heavers of wood and drawers of waters" because of wiser legislation on the subject of finance by the nation with whom we have dealings. —From President Grant's Seventh Annual Message, Dec. 7th, 1875.

Lincoln vs. Bryan.
"Labor is like any other commodity in the market—increases the demand for it and you will increase the price of it." —A. Lincoln, Message to Congress, Dec. 1, 1869.

Bryan and his confederates would have the workman believe that the way to increase the price of labor is to cut the dollar in two by which it is paid. Lincoln was a statesman. Bryan is a latter day demagogue. Lincoln's expression was logical—based on common sense. Bryan's mouthings are intended only to deceive men and influence them to vote against their own interests because he wants votes and cares not what the effect may be upon those from whom he gets them.

Lincoln loved his country. He was a patriot and believed the welfare of every man was dependent upon the welfare of every citizen and hence Lincoln knew no classes and in no public address or message ever alluded to the south which he regarded as part of the Union as "the enemy's country." Bryan casts patriotism aside and follows a dogma, cares nothing for the welfare of the people nor for the prosperity of his country, attempts for the purpose of getting votes to array class against class and action against action and when on his way out said he was going into the enemy's country and yet he claims to consider Lincoln as his prototype.

Lincoln argued and believed in that system of political economy which recognizes labor as a commodity which is seeking a market and that the way to benefit labor was to extend the market—create a demand for it.

Bryan believes in that system of economy which insists that the best thing for the American people is to wipe out protection, let in all the foreign goods our people want to buy, which decreases the market for American labor by buying goods, the products of foreign labor, which our people should make for our own market. Is there any comparison between Lincoln and Bryan as statesmen, as friends of the people? No it leaps beyond comparison. It is a superlative contrast.

W. J. Bryan has been driven to the wall and in his Peoria speech he declared that if the mints were opened to the free coinage of silver at 16 to 1 the silver dollar would at once advance to the value of 100 cents as measured by gold. This is not what Bryan started out to teach. He started out to teach that the gold standard had appreciated all our money until every one dollar whether of gold or silver or paper had double the purchasing power it ought to have and that under free silver coinage the purchasing power of all dollars would be reduced one half and the debtor could pay his debts with half the value the face of the obligation called for by Bryan.

Major McKinley says that it is not coercion that brings the employer of labor and those who have labor to sell together in this election but they are one in this contest by cohesion. This is true. They have discovered in the last three years that their interests are inseparable—that what is good for the one is good for the other.

Mark Hanna is a purchaser of labor and labor gets work and pay from him because he has the disposition and the ability to employ labor. Arkansas Jones is only an echo of slave labor and has no use for a free laborer who is looking for a market for his labor. He does not deal in the commodity. He only interferes with it to get votes.

Only one week more and it will be determined by the American people whether business shall be resumed or whether more depression shall follow. If McKinley is elected business will at once take on new life, because there will be plenty of money to loan when money sticks in investment it means new life to business.

Arkansas Jones' riot scheme don't work as smooth as he hoped it might. Mark Hanna put a pin in it.

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages, and that is Catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers, that they offer One Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials.

A Campaign Party. Last evening at their handsome home on West Prairie avenue Mr. and Mrs. Frank D. Caldwell entertained a large number of their friends at a "campaign party." The affair was in honor of Miss Welsh, of Shelbyville. Throughout the house the decorations were in gold and silver colors. The guests numbering about sixty enjoyed the evening dancing in the attic story of the house. A light supper was served in the dining room where the gold and silver colors were carried out in the table decorations. Mrs. Caldwell received in a handsome costume of black brocade silk and Miss Welsh in a pink and white brocade satin trimmed in chiffon. It was a charming entertainment and was thoroughly enjoyed by all present.

STOBER IN TROUBLE

Charges Brought Against Him by W. H. Horton.

ALD. GOGERTY FRUITFUL IN TALK.

Sale of Cigarettes to be Stopped—Ordinance Ordered—Discussion on Bills for Sewer Expenses.

The members of the city council held a short session last evening. The meeting was dismissed by 8 o'clock. There was very little business but several matters were brought up for discussion. There was a communication to the council from Officer Horton bringing charges against Special Policeman Stober and some time was taken up in a discussion about the fourth ward sewer. Among other resolutions which were brought up was one instructing the city attorney to draw up a resolution abolishing the sale of cigarettes in the city.

The following was the communication from Mr. Horton:

I, William H. Horton, do hereby respectfully prefer and make to the honorable mayor and city council, of the city of Decatur, the following charges against George Stober, a merchant policeman of said city, to-wit:

Said Stober has been repeatedly guilty of conduct unbecoming a policeman and which renders him unfit for the duties and responsibilities of his office.

First: Said Stober, since his appointment has been repeatedly under the influence of intoxicating drink.

Second: Said Stober has repeatedly frequented and been in saloons and in the night time, after the hour prescribed for the closing of such saloons by the ordinance in such case made and provided.

Third: Said Stober has repeatedly spoken of the mayor and police force of the city in a manner calculated to bring reproach and reproach upon said mayor and said police force, and has used of and concerning them, opprobrious and contemptuous epithets.

Fourth: Said Stober has repeatedly engaged in quarrelsome communication with members of said police force, calculated to disturb the harmony of said force and tending to a breach of the peace.

W. H. Horton Alderman Johnson said it was a piece of spite work and he wanted the matter laid on the table. This was lost and a motion was made by Mr. Abner to refer to the mayor and city marshal. Mr. Gogerty said he also thought the charges brought against Officer Stober were spite work and did not come from the right source. The city marshal should be the one to bring such charges. He thought that if anything was to be done to Stober for going into saloons charges would have to be brought against all the police on the force as he was sure all of them with one possible exception were in the habit of frequenting saloons. He was not in favor of prosecuting any one man. Mr. Johnson made an amendment that the matter be referred to the mayor and marshal with power to act and this was carried.

Gogerty Kicked. After the reading of the minutes and a motion was made for approving them Alderman Gogerty spoke in regard to the Fourth ward sewer. He wanted to know if the council had a right to accept a part of the sewer. The vote was called for on the motion to approve the minutes but Mr. Gogerty insisted that his question be answered first. The vote was taken, however, and the minutes were approved, Mr. Gogerty being the only one voting against it.

The same question came up again later in the meeting on a resolution by Mr. Simpson that the clerk be instructed to pay to S. A. Tuttle the amount collected on the Fourth ward sewer and the amount of rebate on the Broadway sewer, amounting to $5000, now in the sewer fund. Mr. Gogerty attacked this resolution at once and was backed up by Mr. Johnson. He insisted that his ward was being robbed and he talked at length on the question of paying out this money. Once he was interrupted by Mr. Matthias but continued to talk. Mr. Montgomery said that he was a large property owner in that part of town and if anyone should kick he ought to be the one. The mayor said that the matter had already been settled. Mr. Gogerty arose to talk some more. The aldermen at once objected but Mr. Gogerty insisted on his right to be heard. The mayor said he should sit down but Mr. Gogerty said the mayor must not decide whether or not he should talk and be appealed to the council. A vote was taken and it was a tie. The mayor, after all, decided it, declaring the motion lost and Mr. Gogerty didn't get to talk any more. The vote was then taken on the passage of the resolution and Gogerty was the only one voting against it.

Liquor Bonds. A large number of bonds for liquor licenses were referred to the finance committee.

Spent on Sidewalks. The street superintendent reported the following amounts expended in each ward for grading sidewalks: First ward $320;

THAT EDWARD JACOBS

A Colored Republican Reads the Young Man a Wholesome Lecture

Editors Republican: My attention has been called to a letter in the Review purporting to be written in behalf of the young men of my race, by one Edward Jacobs, who claims to be a Democrat and who has the consummate gall to offer such affronts as his excuse for his being a Democrat. We shall be considerably in doubt with this young Caesar but we must ask in the outset upon what free silver meat, has this strutting fed that he has grown so fat?

He may repeat the day he has exposed such ignorance. For one to take so broad a view as his letter portrays they must have lived in the south as well as in the north and be in every way acquainted with the actual conditions as they really exist. From all sources of information at hand we learn that Mr. Jacobs' habitation from the date of his birth has been exceedingly limited and so must his knowledge of the facts be. I have lived in California, Texas, Tennessee and Illinois. My association has never been manager nor curtailed by my color, having been in touch with people of all classes and races, the greatest as well as the least. My ideas are therefore more diffused and hence more general, hence the position I take must be considerably broader and deeper.

As a negro I take his reckless speculations upon the race as a misrepresentation and an effort of mischief. If Mr. Jacobs desires to be a Democrat he has a perfect right to be, I judge, but he should not imply that those who chose to remain with history and facts are wrong because he differs with them, nor are they "for sale to the highest bidder" as he carelessly puts it. Does he mean that the race has no loyalty, patriotism or manhood? Would he be so unfair to the race he represents as to imply that our mothers are a lot of breeders of political tricksters, thugs and cut throats? This article coming from Mr. Jacobs at such a time foretells mischief pure and simple and portrays the hidden hand that helped him write it.

It shows the basest ingratitude and demonstrates that Mr. Jacobs, if having the courage to express his convictions, is totally without discretion. We suppose his conscience is at ease for being a Democrat. Why should we care?

Every colored man knows what the Republican party has done for him and he knows also what he has done for the Republican party. He also knows that the Democratic party enslaved his race, and succeeded from the Union because they wanted the entire west to carry on as well as perpetuate the most stupendous fraud, American slavery, and if second to anything of a fraudulent nature, second only to this free silver fallacy.

It is not necessary for me to comment on his misstatements; his position on the questions shows his utter depravity and justifies me in saying that the colored men of Decatur, who it has been my pleasure to meet have too much sense to think seriously of his maiden newspaper twaddle. The negro numerically is always found fighting and valiantly too, with the American people upon every important question that tends to menace the public welfare, be it political, temperance or religion. He is on the right side always too, with the best people, and they are legion. The negro knows a great deal more than Mr. Jacobs gives him credit for, is capable of more gratitude and loyalty to principle than his maiden letter indicates. He has just enough loyalty and patriotism to vote for William McKinley on the 3rd of November. Mr. Jacobs to the minor contrary notwithstanding. The negro knows that the Democratic party and its tenets have always opposed negro progress. The "Jimcrow law" all through the south is the result of demagogic legislation enacted by the nefarious hostile Democracy in that section. Mr. Jacobs knows it too. We have the facts at hand, and could more easily recite the devilry and blood shed and plunder that Democracy has done to the negro than even hint upon the matchless record of the Republican party during all the years it has been in power: how it has given to the negro the right of manhood and stood behind him whenever he would maintain it. Now it gave the best young blood and the flower of its manhood to give him sacred constitutional rights and the eloquence of speech to proclaim it by his vote, by his official status and unmolested by KKKuluxian. Mr. Jacobs does not remember anything about KKKulux. But he does know that Democracy swore extermination to our female chastity and in the south still continues to do its dirty work upon the fairest of those who would be pure.

I have lived in the south for thirty years was born in the south and know whereof and what I speak. I moved to Decatur in order that I might perpetrate the life allotted me. I have aided the sheriff along with other loyal negroes to protect the jail of my county in the south against the mob of Democratic ruffians who sought the innocent life of a poor negro boy. I am sure, our friend, had he seen the experience by which my manhood has been tested he would recede and hide at his own ignorant maiden effusions. There are no Democratic negroes in Texas, who have moral stamina and of whose virtues our citizens might boast, they are the same slaves their fathers were in slavery. I am sorry his letter was over published for if there is any one thing we should be grateful for, as a race, if not for sense, we should stand perfect and go to the head of the class on gratitude.

Mr. Douglas wrote me a letter a few weeks before he died in which he said: "It is not well to claim too much for ourselves before the public, such extravagance invites contempt rather than approval. We stand too near a former condition. It is not well to ship the paddle wheels before we have steam to move them."

While Mr. Douglas, himself a Republican did not always approve every act of the Republican party, and often rebuked the leaders for their, sometimes negligence, he said to the negro race "The Republican party is the ship all else is the sea," and it sounded around the world. He died a Republican and this is the advice that I give to the young negro "Die a Republican." No party is infallible, and yet the G. O. P. comes nearest being this exception than the rule. We have imbibed the doctrine of safety and good government and as negroes we propose to stay with the ship and if she goes down, we will go down with it.

The negro race is not casting around for a party. We recognize the power in our votes and when we cast them we will consider the greatest good for the greatest number.

Henry George, has said one good thing, "There is in human affairs one order which should exist, it is not the order which does exist, but it is the one which should exist, it is man's duty to discover and obey it." The G. O. P. has discovered it and is obeying it, and the negroes are part of the G. O. P. and with McKinley and Protection we are going to bring prosperity to the greatest number of our American citizens. In conclusion I want to plead with my friends Jacobs to bury his hatchet and if he does not approve of race warfare and appreciate the manhood of his race in the south who are solving the knotty problems of caste, race hatred, accumulating property, educating their children and serving God under their own vine and fig tree, he might go south and write a few of just such letters as he will find the Review for publication, and he find more sentiment there to the square inch than there is to a square mile in accord with his ideas in Illinois I view it, that Decatur is still hallowed by the shadow of Lincoln, that this section is fructified by the teaching of Logan and made sacred by the memories of Grant and that any such upstart expression as our young martyr presumed to proclaim will not have any hearing or be viewed with alarm.

I say let the negro alone, he knows his friends, and he has both the gratitude and the sense to stay with them.

Sold to Mr. Hartman. The C. W. Utley merchant tailoring stock of goods, sold at Sheriff's sale, was purchased A. B. Hartman, one of the chief creditors. His claim was about $2500. There were several bidders Mr. Hartman's bid was $3900, and he got the stock and fixtures. The contents of the room had been valued at $4400. Mr. Utley will resume business at the old stand.

AN OBJECT LESSON.

Showing the Effect of Free Coinage Upon the Currency of the United States.

$600,100,000

GOLD MONEY

In United States.

$625,600,000

SILVER MONEY

(Depreciated value under free coinage, $312,800,000.)

PAPER MONEY

(Depreciated value under free coinage, $191,650,000.)

Present value,

$383,300,000

The above diagram represents a pocket argument which is being used very effectively by speakers in explanation of the financial issues of the campaign. The upper section, it will be observed, represents the gold money of the country—$600,100,000. The second section represents the silver money of the country, whose present value is $625,600,000, but which, should it become depreciated by the withdrawal of the government's support under free coinage, would shrink to one half of its present value—thus amounting to $312,800,000. The third section represents the "uncovered" paper money. Its present value is $283,300,000, but as it would naturally share the depreciation which would come to the other money of the country through free coinage, its value would be cut down to $191,650,000.

If the country should adopt the free coinage of silver the entire gold money would disappear, as it has done in other countries having free coinage of silver and as it always has done when an attempt has been made to maintain the free coinage of two metals at other than the commercial ratio which exists.

The next lesson which this card presents is to show at a glance what would happen to the present currency of the country should free coinage be adopted. This is accomplished as follows:

First, fold backward out of sight the section containing the gold money, which would disappear under free coinage.

Second, fold backward at the dotted line the upper half of the section representing the silver money, since it is apparent that free coinage would reduce the silver money to the commercial value of the metal, which is practically one-half of the value at which the government now maintains it.

Third, fold backward the lower half of the section representing paper money, which would also be depreciated in an equal proportion, since the metallic currency of the country would be only silver coins passing at the commercial value of the metal in them.

By this process you are able to show the enormous reduction in the value of money of the country which would follow the free coinage of silver, since the government would not, of course, attempt to maintain the dollars which it would coin for individuals at any more than the commercial value of the silver put into it.

By this simple explanation, it becomes apparent at a glance that the money of the country, now amounting to $1,600,000,000, would shrink to $383,300,000 in value, or less than one-third of the present amount.

This illustration is being used by many speakers in the campaign, who have provided themselves with strips of cardboard hinged together at the lines which separate the silver, gold and paper, and also in the middle of the strips representing the silver and paper. These strips of cardboard are usually covered with paper of an appropriate color—yellow for gold, white for the silver, and green for the paper money. The above diagram, however, answers the purpose equally as well, and those who desire to make use of the illustration in personal conversation or argument can do so by using the printed slips, or what would be better, by pasting it upon strips of cardboard or heavy paper, cut to the proper length and hinged together with strips of cloth, which will make it durable and convenient for pocket use.

In a speech at Belleville, where he was enthusiastically received, W. S. Forman, gold standard democratic candidate for governor, said: "Alttgeld was not only the prime mover in transferring the democratic party over to the populists," said Mr. Forman, "but he leaves as governor the most abominable record of any chief executive since the days of Matteson, who, by the way, was our last democratic governor."

This shot told, and the audience cheered and applauded until exhausted. Mr. Forman's charges against Gov. Alttgeld were reiterated with all the vigor that characterized the ex-congressman's first utterance on the subject. At every period he was interrupted by applause. The list of questions submitted to Gov. Alttgeld through the press by the representatives of Chicago labor organizations was referred to, and the prediction made that the governor would pay no more attention to them than he had paid to Mr. Forman's list.

Child Injured.

The five year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. M. J. Malone met with a painful accident yesterday. The child was playing with a sharp stick when she fell off the porch of the house. The child had the stick in her mouth and it penetrated the palate, inflicting a very painful wound. Fortunately the stick did not reach the brain in which case the accident would have resulted seriously. Dr. James L. Evans dressed the wound.

German Government Refuses to Explain.

Berlin, Oct. 27.—The Reichsanzeiger announces officially that the government will make no explanation on the subject of the announcement by the Hainburger Nachrichten, Bismarck organ, last Monday, on the defensive alliance existing between Prussia and Germany during the last six years Bismarck was in office. It says that diplomatic events at this time on strict state secrets and the government must decline either to correct what is false or supply what is incomplete.

TRAFFIC ACROSS SIBERIA.

Trade Will Follow New Channels When Russia's Railroad Is Completed.

The enormous difference which the trans-Siberian railway is certain to make in the freight carrying trade of the world may be seen in the announcement that first-class passage will be sold from Moscow to Vladivostok for $50, second-class for $22. The freight rates are to be in proportion. The time required for the journey—extending practically from the Baltic sea to the Pacific ocean—will be nine days and eleven hours for express trains and 12 days and 15 hours for hauls of merchandise.

At the present time the trip between the two coasts, say from London via Suez to Yokohama, consumes 38 days. Something like a week may be saved from this account by following the American or Canadian routes. From Bremerhaven to Shanghai consumes 47 days and from Marseilles to Yokohama via the Messageries Maritimes, line 40 days. Taking the minimum time, 31 days, and while it is being covered by ship and car over British routes a Russian freight train can leave Moscow and run to Vladivostok and back again and have about five days' leeway.

Regarding expenses, the scale is as much in favor of the Russians as the time card. For example, a first-class passage to Shanghai from Bremerhaven costs $390; second-class, $240. Adding $10 as the Russian steamship fare from Vladivostok to Shanghai, and the same sum to cover the connection between Bremerhaven and Moscow, the figures in each instance being liberal, and the Russians can cut the German-English first-class rate by the sum of $114. The freight rate will be one-fourth the present sea rate. Of course, there can be no competition with Russia under this head, and English trade with the orient will either have to make use of the Russian transportation facilities or retrace from the field. Even if steamship rates could go down to a cash basis of rivalry, which, of course, would be out of the question, the Russians would still have the advantage of providing a daily against a semi-weekly service.—San Francisco Chronicle.

FLAG SONG.

"Give Our Banner to the Breeze."

—PRESENTED TO—

THE NATIONAL REPUBLICAN COMMITTEE.
FOR REPUBLICAN FLAG DAY, OCTOBER 31, 1896.

By Albert C. Hopkins, Union Veteran,
SOLDIERS' HOME, HOT SPRINGS, S. D.

Assigned for full chorus of children, with flags and ballots. Tune—"When the Boys Begin to Vote," by J. F. Parks. Campaign Song.

Give our Banner to the breeze, Will McKinley,
Everywhere between the seas, Will McKinley;
The "Old Glory" and the new,
Every bright star in the blue,
Every stripe we wave for you, Will McKinley,
We will rally on the colors, true to the call;
We will march where the banner floats, proud over all;
Set "Old Glory" to the prow,
And all patriots will bow,
Be our color-bearer now, Will McKinley.

Shout our battle-cry again, Will McKinley,
Over mountain, plain and glen, Will McKinley;
Honor is the glorious word,
Let it everywhere be heard,
And all patriot hearts be stirred, Will McKinley,
We will rally on the colors, true to the call,
We will march where the banner floats, proud over all;
Though our days of war are past,
With the ballots to be cast,
We will charge them home at last, for McKinley.

We are ready for the fight, Will McKinley,
Every ballot shining bright, Will McKinley,
We are waiting for the charge,
While our army still grows large,
Eager for the first discharge, for McKinley,
We will rally on the colors, true to the call;
We will march where the banner floats, proud over all;
Be the will, and lead the way
Forward to the peaceful day
Of the third November day, Will McKinley.

Honor to our golden word, Will McKinley,
Be our 'scutcheon never blurred, Will McKinley,
Honor keep our Union true,
While our brave Red, White and Blue
Routs repudiation's crew, for McKinley,
We will rally on the colors, true to the call;
We will march where the banner floats, proud over all,
Long enough the day shall be
To defend true liberty—
Keep her honor fair as free, Will McKinley.

See our bright gold ballots shine, Will McKinley,
All along the steady line, Will McKinley;
Let our loyal people see
That "Free Silver" isn't free,
But a fraud—no more to be, with McKinley,
We will rally on the colors, true to the call;
We will march where the banner floats, proud over all;
When the old time calls the new
Forward! we will charge with you—
You're our color bearer true, Will McKinley.

If our hands its honor stain, Will McKinley,
All our sires have bled in vain, Will McKinley;
Let the poor of every race,
White or red or black of face,
Feel the blessings of its grace, Will McKinley,
We will rally on the colors, true to the call;
We will march where the banner floats, proud over all;
Let the flag in honor wave,
Sign of freedom to the slave,
Over every patriot grave, Will McKinley.

PERSONAL AND IMPERSONAL.

—There is not a peer in the house of lords who was there at the beginning of Victoria's reign. The earl of Mansfield has been there for 56 years and the earl of Kimberley for 50.

—John Morley was once asked concerning the influence that had molded his life. Pointing to portraits of John Stuart Mill and Mr. Gladstone, he replied: "These two men have made me."

—Lady Georgiana Grey, aunt of Earl Grey, is nearly 100 years of age, but, though she is not very buck upon her legs, manages to keep informed on politics and the talk of the day by having guests to dinner almost every night.

—Maurice Maeterlinck is about to marry the sister of Maurice Leblanc, a Parisian journalist of note. Maeterlinck is now preparing a volume of essays on English literature, dealing chiefly with the English symbolists.

—Here are the ages of some of the older famous English writers. Mr. Blackmore has just celebrated his 71st birthday, George Macdonald is his senior by one year, Mr. Meredith and Mrs. Oliphant are each 68, Miss Brad don is 59, Sir Walter Besant 58, Ouida 56, and Mr. William Black 55.

—A certain English baronet, who lived near the spot where one of the most celebrated battles of the war of the Roses had been fought, was presented to George III at a levee. An ignorant man, he knew little of the history of the country, and was embarrassed when the king remarked, graciously: "You come from the scene of a celebrated battle, I understand, Sir William." "Well, your majesty," was the answer, "I did have a round or two with the blacksmith, but I'm very much surprised that your majesty should have heard of it."

PACIFIC OCEAN SHARKS

The Thresher Shark the Ally of the Sword Fish.

Shark's eggs are also favorite treats for visiting scientists to study and to carry away. The curious horny envelope that serves as an egg case is often picked up by excursionists who little dream that the old, dark brown, leather pocket, diving in the sand, once held a lively little shark. Mother sharks only lay at one time two eggs apiece, and the long, tendril-like processes at each corner of the egg catch on, as the egg is extruded, to a mass of cords at the bottom of the sea and anchor it securely until the young shark is hatched and ready to emerge. As spiral springs they also laterally serve to rock the young shark in the cradle of the deep. A remarkable variety in the form of this egg case is noted by the Port Jackson shark, found also on the coast where eggs cast, instead of being four square, is con shaped, and in this respect resembles the egg capsule of the typical chimaera.

Sharks literally swarm in Monterey bay, the genuine name of some time coming within half a mile of shore. The enormous fishing shark occasionally makes havoc of the fish nets, two years ago expending about 2000 lb. of fish for the benefit of Stanford's biology collection. This big fellow has a habit of hanging at the surface of the water during the middle of his life, and he will be still sometimes at the shore, floating into him from a distance of a mile and a half in the water, where he has been. Though a man could powerfully feel on the face of the fish, the fisherman. One of the most striking marvels that comes out of these shark egg cases is the fact that half of his tail the upper lobe, has grown into a formidable fin of skin. How such a half tail developed a problem in evolution. It is longer than his body and he is able to turn his body and head to the right and left, and to beat the life out of his prey, and that is the whole.

I have seen him lunge at a man a flail of his like the plucking arm of some Cyclops high out of the ocean and bringing it down the neck after thrusting at his chest with the point and a splash and upon the man's honor of which ought to be a very fine while. And such is the shark's true nature, just what he is fool enough to stay at the surface and be battered to death is a mystery. To impress as reported as the shark's ally in this curious combat and two or more sharks will work together, delivering alternate blows with the fin of the regularity of Chinese drummers. Between the worrying by the grampuses and the thrashing by the sharks the whale gets all broke up and torn to bits, dying the "sea's gory red," like Eugene Field's would of a fisher pirate. In some waters the swordfish is the thrasher-shark's reputed ally—Chicago Inter Ocean.

Big Oregon Spruce Trees

George Butley lately returned to Astoria from the logging camps on the lower Necanicum and brought with him two photographs of an immense log cut from a spruce tree and hauled to the banks of the creek by five yoke of oxen for floating down the stream. This log is a monster, measuring ten feet ten inches in diameter, and is estimated to contain 15,000 feet of lumber. The largest log cut heretofore in that region contains 14,000 feet of lumber. Mr. Logan intends to cut a slice of this log and send it to the Portland exposition. It is said that there is a tree about two miles from Astoria, near the Walluski road, blown down by the recent storm, which measures 16 feet in diameter. Both this tree and the big log secured by Mr. Logan are the best qualities of spruce.—Portland Oregonian.

Demonstration of Silver

Silver was not demonstrated by a conspiracy nor clandestinely, neither have the results been as they are claimed by the free silver men.

Silver was demonstrated by Great Britain 100 years ago because it fluctuated because two yardsticks of unequal length or two bushels of changing quantity is an absurdity, an obstacle to business and commerce.

All the civilized nations have tried the same experiment with the double standard, have found it a delusion and a snare and have come to the simple gold standard as a better thing.

The civilized world is now using more silver than ever before in the history of mankind.

The attempt to return to the double standard is reactionary, illogical and irrational and will not succeed. Revolutions go forward not backward.—Madison (Ind.) Courier.

Bushels and Dollars.

A great proportion of the American people work for wages salaries or other fixed incomes.

Suppose these incomes were fixed in bushels of grain—so many bushels of grain per day or per week.

Suppose it had been the custom to pay wages in wheat.

Suppose a change was made to corn—the number of bushels remaining the same.

Would not the real wages by just the difference between the value of wheat and corn?

Isn't this what would happen if we changed from the present full dollar standard to a 100 percent standard?

Read bushels for dollar and you have the whole argument in a nutshell.

Why should any workingman any salaried person, anyone with a fixed income, vote for a cheaper dollar any more than he would vote to have his wages paid in a cheaper grain? N. Y. World.

The Bargain Counter Candidate

Some of the reports say that the women went wild over Bryan at different places along his route. "I marked the horse child."

"That's natural," replied the snake child. "He is the bargain counter candidate."

"How so?"

"He wants to mark the dollar down to 5 cents." Pittsburgh Chronicle Telegraph.

If Thirty Pounds of Wheat Made a Bushel.

Would you have any more wheat or could you buy any more food clothes or implement with the proceeds of your crop than you do now?

If 50 cents were a dollar, would your crops bring you any more of the things that you need than you get now?

Rev. D. F. May of Mt. Zion, will preach next Sunday morning and evening at Argenta.

Steering clear of the shoals of ill health and the reefs of disease is every man's duty. If only his digestion be kept in good order, it is often any one's sick unless they have indigestion, the common-sense way in which indigestion shows itself is in a constant loss of nine people in ten are troubled more or less in this way.

Nine tenths of all the world's sickness is caused by this one trouble. Stomach, stomach, stomach, indigestion, sour stomach, dizziness, heart burn, palpitation, biliousness, distress after eating all these are merely symptoms of constipation. Why do people suffer with them when the cure is so simple and so easily obtained? Years ago, Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets were placed on the market. Since then, there has been no excuse for anybody to suffer from constipation and its attendant ills. The "Pleasant Pellets" cure every case infallibly and permanently. They are very small, easy to take, gentle and quick in action. They are not at all violent, they do not disturb the system. They cure you so you can be cured. Thousands of women will find if they take the "Pleasant Pellets" that their ills will vanish with the constipation.

The People's Common Sense Medical Advertiser gives more plain useful information about the human body and of the diseases to which it is subject than any other single book in the English language. It is really a medical encyclopedia in one volume. A large heavy book of 628 pages with over 350 illustrations. The outlay of money and effort in producing this great book was paid for by the sale of the first edition of 50,000 copies at 25c each, and the profit has been used in publishing the present edition of half a million copies to be sent absolutely without price to all who will remit the small charge of 4c in one-cent stamps to pay the cost of mailing. CLEVER POLICE WORK.

Robert Graves and Harry Brooks Arrested for Robbery.

The Decatur police are always active.

This was shown last night by the capture of Robert Graves, of Decatur, and Harry Brooks, of Chicago, who had on their persons garments that had been stolen from the F. P. Towne store at Harris-town Sunday night. The night before a box of Three Kings cigars had been stolen from the Vandilla freight house in this city. Thursday it was learned by Officer Cross that Graves had been trying to sell a box of Three Kings cigars, but Graves could not be located. At a late hour last night Officers Cross, Beatty, Koshinski and Hendrix made it their special business to search the city for Graves. Passing the alley on Prairie avenue north of the old tabernacle the officers saw three men in the shadow of the old Review office building. Two of the men had big bundles. At the same moment the men saw the officers. They started to run, but they were slick enough to hide the bundles close to the fence in the Star Coal
lot. Graves was overtaken and hustled to the police station. The other two men got away, but later Brooks was arrested in the I. D. & W. sand house. When searched both young men had on now underclothing and overshirts answering the description of the goods stolen from the Towne store. Later the missing bundles were found by the police. The goods were the articles stolen from Towne, embracing gloves, shoes and shirts. The cigars were missing, but the empty boxes were found. The third man is still at liberty. The police are after him. Both Graves and Brooks will get a quick trip to the penitentiary. It will be the second journey for Graves who some years ago was sent up for breaking into the news stand near the depot.

Held to Bail.

In Justice Hurdy's court this afternoon Graves and Brooks, charged with burglary and larceny, waived examination and, in default of $500 bail, both were returned to the county jail.

Christian Endeavor Officers.

These officers of the Y. P. S. C. E., of the churches named were elected last night.

First M. E. church—A. M. Taylor,
president; Flora Staples, vice-president;
Stella Cowgill, recording secretary; Edith Ghor, treasurer; Nellie Hubbard, corresponding secretary.

Grace Methodist—Herman Vandine,
president; Del Kenney, vice-president;
Charles Pearce, secretary; Charles Munce,
treasurer.

The marriage of Miss Harriet Codd-ington, of Lincoln, to S. T. Stewart, of Hebron, Neb., will occur next Wednesday,
Oct. 28, at the residence of the bride's parents.

Discussed Thoroughly.

The German Republican voters of the fifth and sixth wards had a splendid meeting last night in the Leo building at the corner of Calhoun and Marlette streets.

The hall was crowded and many had to stand and sit on tables. It was a gathering of earnest men whose only capital is the labor of their hands and the interest they paid in all that was said showed plainly that they were all deeply concerned in the result of the election. And when the speakers made a good point, based on sound reasoning, illustrated by personal experience and observation of the laboring men right here at home, marking the change from prosperity in '93 to the depression of the present time, the applause was almost deafening, possibly audible over on Broadway where the tree silver fellows were having a meeting in Chromie's hall.

The chairman of the Republican meeting was Gottlieb Jendry who spoke to the audience in German in presenting the speakers.

Attorney W. N. Andrews was the first speaker. He said the campaign just coming to a close would go down in history as the hardest one we have ever had.

The time has come when we should take a stand against anarchy and for patriotism. There are but two paths—one to prosperity, the other leading to destruction.

Four years ago everything was booming and the people were prosperous. The policy of the Republican party has always been in the interest of the laboring man. The Democrats fought the Republicans on the tariff issue in '93, and they won, and their legislation in the brief period of three years has wrecked the times of prosperity we had and brought us to a time of idleness and want, besides increasing the national debt $202,000,000 and the laboring man will have to help pay it.

In the matter of coal mining alone
the tariff legislation of the Democrats has given $500,000,000 annually to the mines of China—taken the jobs of American miners and given them to the Chinese.

I saw Bryan in Decatur the other day,
and he stood there with his hands outstretched and his chin raised, he seemed to say: "Look at me, you may never see me again," and I thought he might have added, "And after election you will never hear of me again." (Laughter.) Election day vote for your own jobs and your own homes and your own schools, not for the English, vote for prosperity, and for good money and plenty of work. In closing Mr. Andrews referred briefly to Al-tield's false promises and unpatriotic administration. The address was well received.

States Attorney I. R. Mills, was received with applause as he came forward. He spoke for an hour and put the issues of the campaign concisely and simply. In a way that all could understand. He said:

"We are all American citizens and we must as such to talk over what is best for us at this time. We all have a common interest in our country—personal advancement and personal prosperity. I believe I have the pleasure and privilege of talking to a representative body of the common working people of this country. We are all interested in the welfare of our country. What is good for a Republican is good for a Democrat. What will promote the interest of an American will benefit even a Papist. You know what you want, what will help you in the struggle of life, what will help your family, and educate your children, and if you believe in the grand patriotic principles advocated by William McKinley (cheers) vote for him. You were all prosperous in 1892. How are you now? History shows that there was the greatest prosperity in this country from 1880 to 1892 than there was ever experienced before by any people in the same period of time in any nation. Capital was invested, labor was employed at good wages and there was good demand for all products. We had individual and collective prosperity and national wealth and all of our money was sound and good and all at a parity, every dollar as good as gold. Confidence was unshaken. Protection gave us the prosperity we all enjoyed. If you could be as prosperous now as you were in 1892 wouldn't you vote to go back to that time? (Yes, you bet.) Then there was prosperity everywhere. You had pictures on your walls, carpets on your floors
and some of you owned a horse and buggy. (Cheers.) Prior to 92 the national debt was two thousand million dollars.

Republicans by their wise tariff legislation paid off three fourths of that debt, but when the Democrats came in they not a dollar of the national debt was paid, but besides plunging the country into idleness, giving the people the American people to the people of the men in foreign countries and so on.

Idleness, they have a national debt $202,000,000. If you vote for of the Democratic spend money on the people on five to ten cents a dollar the Texas oil story, the plenty of milk as often as water, and it grew fat. One of the Texas steers over in the fall season broke away from the corral, ran fence and stand with the mer gave up the struggle, they teach the calf what was to be done
and said finally it could not be done would realize its mistake when the time came. (Laughter.) A the rebuke came to the Democrats
when the people were told that there will be another but not this day. * * * Every factory, every coal mine, is interested in a furnace going and smoking the chimneys. The more the used the more work there is to do the more work there is to do the money will be paid out. When the factories are closed, the man had a patent smoke chimney,
he wanted to test it, and he set it burg. In the factory district, the leading manufacture of houses and asked to make a test. The man took the Chicago, built the door of his office and told him to keep the many factories in plain view. If you see any smoke, asked the manturer. "No," answered the Chicago man.
"Of course you do not. Your money
may be all right, but the Democrat party is the greatest smoke consumer country has ever known. There has been no smoke around here to consume the
the Democratic party got in its death work." (Laughter and applause.) Then a number of men who have bought land
made partial payments on their homes are troubling today for fear they will all they have worked. There is but one thing to do. Take up the golden rule
'93 and vote for good times.

Mr. Mills then took up the money question and discussed it thoroughly, putting everything so plain that everybody became enthusiastic at the close. Approving applause was frequent. The talk of the proposed four centage of silver was fully exposed. Mr. Mills was congratulated generally and was asked to come again next Monday night.

Attorney W. B. Redmon made the closing address. He talked on the tariff, and made a number of good points which were well received.

It was announced by Chairman Jendry that there would be another meeting at the same place next Monday at 8 o'clock.
